VOLUME 22 | PIONEERING YESTERDAY, TODAY & TOMORROW | 11 NUMBER

ISSUE 255

With Fall in the air, we find that there can be a lot of changes taking place in our lives. The temperature cools and the weather is often wet or snowy. Leaves fall from the trees and outdoor plants either die off or change to a dormant state. Sometimes it is hard for us to live with changes. We get stuck in our comfortable routines and hate change. But some change is inevitable. Our bodies for example grow and decline over time. Sometimes it's our most useful things that become less and less reliable.

So, what do we do about. Complaining doesn't do much good. You really can't escape changes. So, let's be …

#1 Thankful that we can change.

#2 Plan for changes and make them work to our advantage.

#3 expect the unexpected and keep a positive attitude.

#4 Remember that with God's help we can endure and achieve all that he asks.

But most of all, let's give thanks to God and all those that have lived before us that made life better than they had it. Especially our pioneer legacy.

Happy Thanksgiving.

2026 NATIONAL TREK | AMERICA 250 TOUR

This was such a glorious experience with many new friends! To share many of the events of our divinely orchestrated American history touched our hearts deeply and gave us a profound sense of gratitude for the privilege of being born in this "choice land" chosen by God as a place of freedom and opportunity where the gospel could be restored. A big Thank You to John Beck, Steve Kruman, and Paul Wright along with Lynette, Aly and Trisha for their help and support.

PIONEER STORIES

SILAS HARRIS, A SOUTHERN UTAH PIONEER

An autobiography by Silas Harris 1824-1897

Submitted to the SUP Library by the SUP Red Rock Chapter, October 2, 2017

Soon after I was born [in Indiana], we moved into Missouri. When about 10 years old, I was taken very sick. My Uncle William Hawk, who was a doctor, was sent for. He, having embraced the Gospel of Jesus Christ, said he would not administer any medication, but would go for the Elders. Although at that time I had not been baptized, I at once found myself exercising faith in the administration of the Elders and felt sure I would recover.

The Elders lived several miles away. When they arrived, I was already better. They administered to me and I rapidly recovered. This is my first recollection of faith in the gospel as revealed to the Prophet Joseph Smith.

I was baptized in Goose Creek near Far West, Missouri, when [I was] about 14 years old. . . in October 1838. About this time, we moved out of Missouri, because of the persecution, and moved to Montrose, Iowa, where I lived with the family until the exodus of the Saints from Nauvoo.

The family joined the Camp of Israel in the Spring of 1846. Two or three days before our arrival at Council Bluffs, the news reached us that a battalion of our people had been called by the government, to join the U.S. Army to fight Mexico. . .

Without any serious thought on the subject, I said I was going. The saying uttered lightly, proved prophetic. I joined Company B under Capt. Jesse B. Hunter . . . until disbanded at Los Angeles in 1847.

At Fort Leavenworth, I was taken sick with mumps. Rather than go on the sick list in the hands of an unfriendly doctor, I marched in the ranks, taking such care of myself as I could under the circumstances, and taking the advice of my Uncle William Hawk. I did not recover until the Battalion reached Santa Fe. Much of the time during the march I acted as teamster.

President Brigham Young promised the Battalion boys, before they left for their long journey that if they would be faithful and not unnecessarily destroy property belonging to others as they passed through, and not destroy life, they would not have to fire a gun. This promise was realized by our Mormon boys.

After being discharged, I went to San Francisco where I remained during winter of 1847-48. In the Spring of [1848] in connection with my Uncle William Hawk, we advertised to take the mail by way of Salt Lake to the Missouri River at the rate of 50 [cents] per letter. The enterprise proved a success. We traveled the northern route to Salt Lake by the Truckee River. We had sufficient company to make a party of 16 men. As we were constantly on guard against Indians attacking . . . we left San Francisco, April 15, [1848]. . . crossing the Sierra Nevadas [where] the snow was so deep and soft, we were compelled to lay over. During this time, the Indians stole all our horses. However, the animals were recovered. We arrived in Salt Lake about the middle of June. Uncle William Hawk went on to the Missouri River with the mail, and I remained in Salt Lake until August when I started for Council Bluffs with pack animals and a party of 12 men, mostly Battalion men . . .

At the head of the Sweet Water River, we met [President] Young with a company of Saints on their way to Salt Lake. They were unloading part of their teams to send back to the Missouri River . . . to assist others of the Saints the following season. Myself and party returned with [Captain Allen] Taylor, arriving in Council Bluffs about the middle of October. Here I met my parents after 14 months separation, having left them encamped by the wayside. They were well and living on Little Pigeon Creek . . . now Council Bluffs. . .

In the Spring of 1849, the family began preparations for the long journey to Salt Lake. We started in June in Captain Taylor's 100. After crossing South Fork, we had a stampede in which Margaret Harris Hawk, wife of Uncle William Hawk, was killed. The family was traveling with Reddick Allred's 50.

On [September] 2, 1849, I married Sariah Aldridge at Independence Rock. She was the daughter of William Aldridge Jr. and Betsy Vanblaricum. The company arrived in Salt Lake about the middle of October. My family settled in Bountiful.

[After living in several towns in Southern Utah and San Bernardino, California, Silas died of La Grippe [the flu] in Glendale, Utah, March 12, 1897.]

Willie Handcart Company

UPTLA #27 | GPS: N42 26 19.4, W108 37 23.7 ELEVATION 7360 FEET (42.4387222, -108.6232500)

UPTLA #27 at Rock Creek (near South Pass), Wyoming memorializes the Willie's Handcart Company. Captain James G. Willie's handcart company of Mormon emigrants on the way to Utah, greatly exhausted by the deep snows of an early winter and suffering from lack of food and clothing, had assembled here for reorganization by relief parties from Utah, about the end of October 1856. Thirteen persons were frozen to death during a single night and were buried here in one grave. Two others died the next day and were buried nearby. Of the company of 404 persons 77 perished before help arrived. The survivors reached Salt Lake City November 9, 1856.

An additional marker gives the names of those who died: "In memory of those members of the Willie Handcart Co." whose journey started too late and ended too early and were buried here in a circular grave October 24 & 25, 1856

BOULDER DAM CHAPTER - Boulder City / Las Vegas, Nevada

Boulder Dam members

Dinner Meeting. The Boulder Dam Chapter met on October 16, 2026, for a Potluck Party at the 5th Street Chapel in Boulder City. It was a wonderful dinner. Three of our new members received their Chapter vests. Adrynne Muir was the guest speaker and told of her pioneer heritage and the hardships they went through having to move from Kirtland to Missouri to Nauvoo and finally being driven out of Nauvoo. At Sugar Creek, her great-great grandfather died along with a large number of other saints. A monument has been erected on their behalf.

Trek. This month's trek took us to the new Lone Mountain Temple site, where construction is underway. The missionary couple who is on site told us about the many challenges we have had to face getting it built. We then drove to Mt. Charleston to check out the autumn leaves and enjoyed lunch on the mountain. Mt. Charleston is a towering peak rising 11,916 feet. It is our understanding that the early Saints at the Old Mormon Fort in Las Vegas gathered lumber and firewood from its forest.

BRIGHAM YOUNG CHAPTER - Provo, Utah

Kenneth L. Alford

The Brigham Young Chapter held its meeting on October 22, 2026, at the Culinary Arts Institute, Utah Valley University. Our speaker was Dr. Kenneth L. Alford. He is Professor of Church History and Doctrine at Brigham Young University and a retired U.S. Army Colonel. Dr. Alford served in numerous assignments over almost 30 years on active duty in the Army—including at the Pentagon, supporting Pershing nuclear missile units, managing more than $5.5 billion in government information technology contracts, teaching computer science at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, and serving as Department Chair and Professor of Strategic Leadership at the National Defense University in Washington, DC. He has published and presented a wide range of subjects, authoring and editing fourteen books and more than 200 articles. Ken and his late wife, Sherilee, have four wonderful children and twenty amazing grandchildren. The title of his presentation was "God's Hand in America's Birth." In this presentation he provided evidence of God's hand and intervention during the American Revolutionary War — discussing 1 Nephi 13, George Washington and the Founding Fathers, wartime weather, and the West Point chain across the Hudson River. Detailed information covered in this lecture is available from an article written by Kenneth Alford entitled, "Delivered by the Power of God": Nephi's Vison of America's Birth.: Click HERE.

CEDAR CITY CHAPTER - Cedar City, Utah

Battalion Monuments

The Cedar City Chapter has been actively working on the Mormon Battalion grave marker project. Most of the graves in our area already have medallions on them from SUP. We have identified a couple in Beaver County that do not. We hope to arrange a suitable ceremony to take care of these last two and may try to involve the families of those that already have medallions to participate as well. As a note, Family Search contains a wealth of information on most of those persons identified as members of the Mormon Battalion. There are photographs, stories, and all kinds of information readily available, such as the photo of the grave marker in the Beaver cemetery for John Riggs Murdock shown here.

CENTERVILLE CHAPTER - Centerville, Utah

Greg Jarrard and Brent Schick

Our Centerville Chapter meeting for October included a wonderful dinner prepared by members or our chapter and included chili, cornbread, Caesar salad and ice cream sandwiches. Our chapter president was not able to attend this month so our chapter Secretary, Brent Schick, conducted the meeting. Our guest speaker was Greg Jarrard. Greg spoke about his new book entitled Marching on Zion which visited the Utah war period 1857-58. Much of his presentation talked about Thomas Kane's involvement with the saints during that time period. He explained how Thomas Kane took a boat from Keokuk Iowa across the river to Nauvoo. He saw the beautiful city there and was amazed to see that city empty because the saints had moved on to Winter Quarters. He also talked about the Mormon Battalion, when 500 LDS men were recruited to serve in the Spanish American War and how that helped the Saints financially and in other ways. Thomas Kane became good friends with the saints and at one time became very ill and was given a blessing by the Church's Patriarch. Thomas recovered and became a close friend of the Church and helped them politically because of his many political connections. Some of brother Jarrard's presentation was done with dialogue which was created by him between characters but also included historical facts which made it an interesting presentation.

COTTON MISSION CHAPTER - St George, Utah

Mike Eager runs sorghum extractor

Dinner Meeting. Sister Toni Brooks Caplin was the speaker at our October 20 dinner meeting. She spoke about her own ancestor George Brooks. Toni and her husband Steven were recently released as counselor and assistant matron in the St. George LDS Temple presidency.

Mini Trek. On October 24 our chapter enjoyed a mini trek to the pioneer home of Mike Eager in Santa Clara, Utah. Located adjacent to the Jacob Hamblin LDS historic site, the home is a veritable living museum with many pioneer and Native American artifacts throughout the home and grounds. We had a live demonstration of Sorghum making using an old sorghum press driven by a belt hooked to a 1945 John Deere tractor. The sorghum cane is grown on the property and the stalks are run through the press which squeezes out the juice. The juice looks and tastes similar to molasses.

EAGLE ROCK CHAPTER - Idaho Falls, Idaho

Brian Stutzman

Brian Stutzman was invited to speak and present to us this month. He is an Idaho businessman, author, and longtime student of the life and prophecies of Joseph Smith. He founded Business Phone Specialists in 1996 and led the company for nearly three decades before selling it in 2026. For more than a decade, Brian has researched and written about early Latter-day Saint history, with a particular focus on Joseph Smith's prophecies, and Warsaw Illinois. Warsaw was the home to the mob that killed Joseph and Hyrum, and Brian wrote the history of that town. He also is the author of two books on the subject of Joseph's prophecies and has appeared on over 50 podcasts discussing Church history. He currently teaches BYU Pathway institute for his calling, and his favorite calling was serving as YSA Bishop at BYU Idaho. Brian and his wife, Alane, are the parents of four sons and have 6 grandchildren. They spend part of the year in Nauvoo, Illinois, where they founded and operate the free Martyrdom Stories Museum, devoted to preserving and teaching the history surrounding Joseph and Hyrum Smith and the events of 1844. They also spend part of the year in Florida. Brian enjoys researching, writing, teaching, traveling, and sharing the remarkable stories and fulfilled prophecies found throughout the history of the Restoration.

HURRICANE CHAPTER - Hurricane, Utah

Kelly and Tina Lundeen

In our September meeting on 9/23/2026 we had a wonderful presentation from President Kelly and Tina Lundeen on their experience as mission president and matron in Africa. They served in the Benin Cotonou Mission and shared many memorable times and the love they gained for the people and areas they served. Their power-point presentation as well as the memorabilia brought home as precious gifts were awe inspiring to our members.

JORDAN RIVER TEMPLE CHAPTER - South Jordan, Utah

Boyd Knight and Chris Stewart

Congressman Chris Stewart was the speaker at our October Chapter meeting. Stewart was the Congressman serving in the U.S. House of Representatives from 2013 to 2023 and represented the 2nd district from Utah. Writing this article is difficult as just words cannot describe the positive feelings we all felt as we listened to Chris Stewart share a few of his experiences serving as a member of the U.S. House of Representatives for about ten years. How does a person describe back to you readers what we felt when Chris told of an immigrant, he met in a foreign country whose face had been disfigured from a beating and flesh cutting he received breaking every facial bone in the immigrant's head. All the immigrant did was to say to a neighbor in a friendly discussion this comment, "I hope one day our kids have freedom." The neighbor turned him in to government officials and the government thugs nearly killed the immigrant for what he said. Chris said that we, as citizens, should not take being free for granted. There is a phrase in the U. S. Declaration of Independence that was drafted by Thomas Jefferson and adopted by the Continental Congress in 1776 that reads "Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness." Stewart went on to say there is much debate on what the "Pursuit of Happiness" represents. He said he believes it means that we should all strive to live and pursue a moral life and by so doing that will result in a life of happiness. Our speaker went on to say what a great state Utah is. A special and unique place where it is a good place to start a business and a great state to live in and raise a family. He paid tribute to the early pioneers who created the foundation of this state. Thank you, Chris Stewart, for sharing this portion of your life with us. Very inspirational and thought provoking in content.

MORGAN PIONEER CHAPTER - Morgan, Utah

John Heywood

Monday, October 19, the Morgan Chapter of the Sons of the Utah Pioneers held their monthly luncheon with their wives at the Rock Chapel. Board member, George Newton invited chapter members to participate next week in placing grave markers for members of the Mormon Battalion who are buried in Morgan County. Bob Bell, brother-in-law to chapter member Richard Bohman, was in attendance and presented to the chapter a packet of brochures he designed and printed for chapter members to use when inviting friends to be part of the Chapter. Samples were given to each member.

Chapter member, Rick London presented the "Pioneer Moment" introducing himself and then sharing the life sketch of his great grandfather, Herbert Benjamin Crouch. Brother Crouch was a dynamic resident of Morgan, an entrepreneur, banker, church leader. state legislator and mayor of Morgan City. We are all grateful for his contributions to the community, the church and the many lives he touched.

After a wonderful lunch by "Larry's to Go" our main speaker was John Heywood, current principal of the Morgan Seminary. Brother Heywood has taught seminary for 26 years along the Wasatch front and has been a resident of Morgan for the last 17 years. He and his wife Sunni are the parents of three children. Principal Heywood shared with the chapter members some of the history of seminary here in Morgan. He showed photos and details of the events leading up to the completion of the new seminary building and shared pictures of the "new concept" classrooms and facilities. Morgan Seminary has been and still is one of the most successful seminary programs in the Church. Brother Heywood shared an impressive list of missions throughout the world where seminary graduates from Morgan are currently serving. He invited chapter members to visit the new facility when possible. Thank you, Principal Heywood and the other seminary instructors, for the blessing you are to our children, our grandchildren and the community.

MOUNTAIN VALLEY CHAPTER - Heber City, Utah

Morgan Murdock

The Mountain Valley Chapter held their Chapter Meeting on October 8, 2026. The guest speaker was Morgan Murdock from Heber City, Utah. Morgan is a school teacher in Heber City and is a member of the Heber City Council. Morgan gave a presentation about Pioneer Joseph Stacy Murdock who is his 3rd Great Grandfather. Joseph was called by Brigham Young to settle in Heber Valley about 1860. He was ordained the first bishop in Heber City and represented Wasatch County in the Utah Territorial Legislature. Bishop Murdock negotiated and signed a peace treaty with Ute Chief Tabby-To-Kwanah at his home in Heber on August 19, 1867. A positive friendship developed between Chief Tabby and Bishop Murdock. When Chief Tabby's son Tom died in a hunting accident, he brought his son to Bishop Murdock for burial in the "white" way in the Heber Cemetery. Then Chief Tabby brought his son's pony to the grave, killed the pony and burned it over the grave in the "Indian" way. This story is preserved with a SUP Monument at the gravesite and a statue of Chief Tabby and a pony nearby in the Cemetery.

OGDEN PIONEER CHAPTER - Ogden, Utah

Rob & Judy Scott

During our October Chapter meeting Robert Oswald Scott was recognized as a 21St Century Pioneer. This award is presented twice each year to a chapter member who has demonstrated throughout his life the Pioneer Values of the National Society of the Sons of Utah Pioneers. The recipients share their life history including significant events which demonstrate their commitment to the Pioneer Values. Rob is the immediate past president of the Ogden Pioneer Chapter and is currently serving as the Ogden Area Vice President. He was raised in Billings, MT, and served a mission to the Eastern Atlantic States. He served in the U.S. Airforce on active duty and the reserves. Rob had a successful career in City/County Planning and Development in Utah and Oregon. He holds a BA degree from Brigham Young University and a master's degree in public administration (MPA) from the University of Utah. He has served his church as a bishop, stake president, and as a senior couple missionary with his wife, Judy, in the My Hometown Ogden mission of the Church. Rob and Judy are the parents of four children and six grandchildren. Rob spends his spare time at a family ranch near Coalville, UT, making sure this land is preserved for the enjoyment of future generations. Congratulations Rob – this is well deserved.

SALT LAKE PIONEER CHAPTER - Downtown Salt Lake City, Utah

Porter Rockwell

When: --Wednesday, November 11, 12PM

Location: Education Center by LDS Hospital (8th Ave and C Street. North of the main hospital doors on the west side of the hospital). Parking garages are across the street, to the west.

Cost: $25 Per Person

Speaker: Chad Stowell

Chad will be speaking about his great-great-great grandfather Porter Rockwell. He will be highlighting stories and accounts from his life that are often overlooked; revealing the faith, devotion, and character of this misunderstood icon from Church history.

SETTLEMENT CANYON CHAPTER - Tooele, Utah

Frank Fuller Judd

In December 2002 Frank Fuller Judd completed a successful career as a research scientist in the development of optical semiconductor devices. He then spent the next twenty years researching his Judd ancestors and the times in which they lived. Visiting every place they had lived in the USA and Canada. On October 1, 2026, Frank Fuller Judd, Ph.D. entertained the Settlement Canyon Chapter with real life details from the book he wrote, titled "Rachel Judd Hamblin, One of God's Angels" to quote Teresa Orton, Museum Director of the DUP McQuarrie Memorial Museum, St George, UT. The book is a wonderful story of the human spirit overcoming many tragedies and surviving many hardships. Rachel possessed such great faith in a new religion to which she devoted her life. She consecrated herself to the ideal of finding Zion, a peaceful home where she could her raise family and have a good life. Rachel experienced great historical events such as the "Mountain Meadow Massacre" from the sidelines but suffered through all the consequences of those events. "When the wagons with the crying and blood-stained children reach Hamblin's ranch, Rachel Hamblin took them into her shanty and surrounding yard. She did her best, one woman caring for seventeen children, in addition to her own. Some babies were still nursing and wailed for the comfort of their mother's breast. Two of the young survivors showed outward wounds. Sarah Frances Baker's ear was bleeding, and little Sarah Dunlap's arm still oozed near the elbow, "the bone being entirely severed. The inner damage was still worse--young hearts and minds in terrible trauma. Though they had not had peaceful rest in days, the 'children cried all night'"

SQUAW PEAK CHAPTER - Provo, Utah

Tom and Gayle Holdman receiving Modern Pioneer award

Trek to UVU. The Fulton Library at Utah Valley University has an impressive stained-glass display called "Roots of Knowledge." On September 22nd, chapter members enjoyed the personal experience of the artist, Orem native Tom Holdman, who shared insights on the creation of this work. The chapter presented Mr. Holdman the "Modern Pioneer" award for his positive impact on the local community and the LDS Church through his dedicated work as an artist.

Mormon Battalion Memorials. In a ceremony on October 10th, the chapter placed memorial medallions at the graves of three Mormon Battalion members who are buried in Provo City Cemetery.

October Dinner Meeting. Following a catered dinner, Ryan Madsen, director of the Orem Heritage Museum, regaled us with visuals and interesting stories of some of the many artifacts on display in the museum.

TEMPLE FORK CHAPTER - Logan, Utah

Kerry Watts

On Monday the 19th of. October the Temple Fork Chapter held its October meeting at the Logan Country Club. We had a large attendance with 45 in attendance. We presented Edward Winger with a Modern Pioneer Award for his service to Logan through his business, The Plant Peddler, his community service, lifelong church service and for exemplifying the pioneer spirit. Our guest speaker was Kerry Watts from Smithfield. He has a fantastic family history going back to early Virginia. He continues his love for history and preserving history in Smithfield. He owns Watts Auto and has murals depicting local history painted on his business buildings. Everyone who attended came away with a better knowledge and love for local Cache Valley history.

UPPER SNAKE RIVER VALLEY CHAPTER - Rexburg, Idaho

Summer Picnic

Summer Picnic: August 27th, 2026. Friends and members of our local chapter met at the pavilion of the Rexburg Idaho Center Stake to enjoy a potluck dinner of fried chicken, corn-on-the-cob, tasty salads, and yummy deserts.

Historical Minute: Louis Clements shared the history of Madison County.

Program for October's Member Meeting: Grant Johnson, President of the Sugar City Area Historical Society, gave a presentation about the history of the Sugar City Area and the activities of their historical society. He was assisted by his wife, Linda (Co-President), and his daughter Amy. The theme of their society is "Preserving the Past, Inspiring the Future." He presented slides and pictures of the early years of Sugar City, including the Fremont County Bank of 1903, whose president was Joseph F. Smith. The big Sugar Beet Factory was one of the largest in America at time it was functioning.

Grant also showed slides of early buildings, including the Fremont County Bank, the Rock School, the Rock Church, the Grey Church, and the Weada Theatre.
